

CENTURION

AD ASTRA PER SAPIENTIA (To the stars through wisdom)-our school motto encourages us to seek the heights of the physical and metaphysical world through the paths of knowledge and by-ways of experience, culminating in the summit of wisdom. It also reminds us of one of the chief faculties of the spirit of man-the intellect. Our school is a veritable rock of knowledge where the best facilities are provided for us to attain our intellectual goals. The most important of these are our teachers, who ably guide and direct us along the road of trial and error.

AD OMNIA PER AMICITIAM-is the counterpart that should be added to the rule of striving to learn. This is the other main faculty of the rational being, namely the will. Through the mind we know; through the will we love. Love has many grades and degrees. Its common exhibition in human relationship is that of friendship. In the modern world the stress and urgency is to cultivate the intellect and neglect the culture of friendship. Here in our institution we are fortunate in the fact that our instructors tend to mold the whole man. Yes, we are educated men, but we are also real human beings with a heart. In the turbulent world of today that is not a choice but a need.

The Centurions of ancient Rome were united in a love for country, for valor, for truth. Their greatest link was the bond of friendship which they had for each other. The same be said primarily of our administrators and teachers. What an atmosphere to enter for those waiting in the wings of the various junior high grades to join us! What a stage to play in various parts for us who are in school! What pleasant memories for those who have left us! "To all things through friendship"-let us add not only to our motto but to our daily life.

As the second school year of South Windsor High School draws to a close, we, the editors of the CENTURION, feel that this book has recorded the many phases of life at South Windsor High School.

In future years our many hopes, worries, joys, trials, and tribulations will be brought to mind as we skim through this memory album. It will serve as a link into the past and will enable us to look back upon an eventful year at S.W.H.S.

The publishing of a yearbook is dependent upon the energy and creativity of many people. We wish to thank, in particular, Mr. Krawski, Mrs. Kibbe, Mr. Olsen, and all other faculty and students who have helped to publish this book.

D EDICATED TO —

Mr. Charles Sharos
Physical Education
Director of Athletics
B. S., M. S. Springfield College

The class of 1964 dedicates this yearbook to Mr. Charles Sharos—a man who not only has elevated South Windsor to great athletic acclaim, but a man whose energy has motivated others, whose character is of the highest quality, and whose wisdom cultivates the individual. His personality radiates with fun and laughter, and he is a true friend to all, faculty and students.

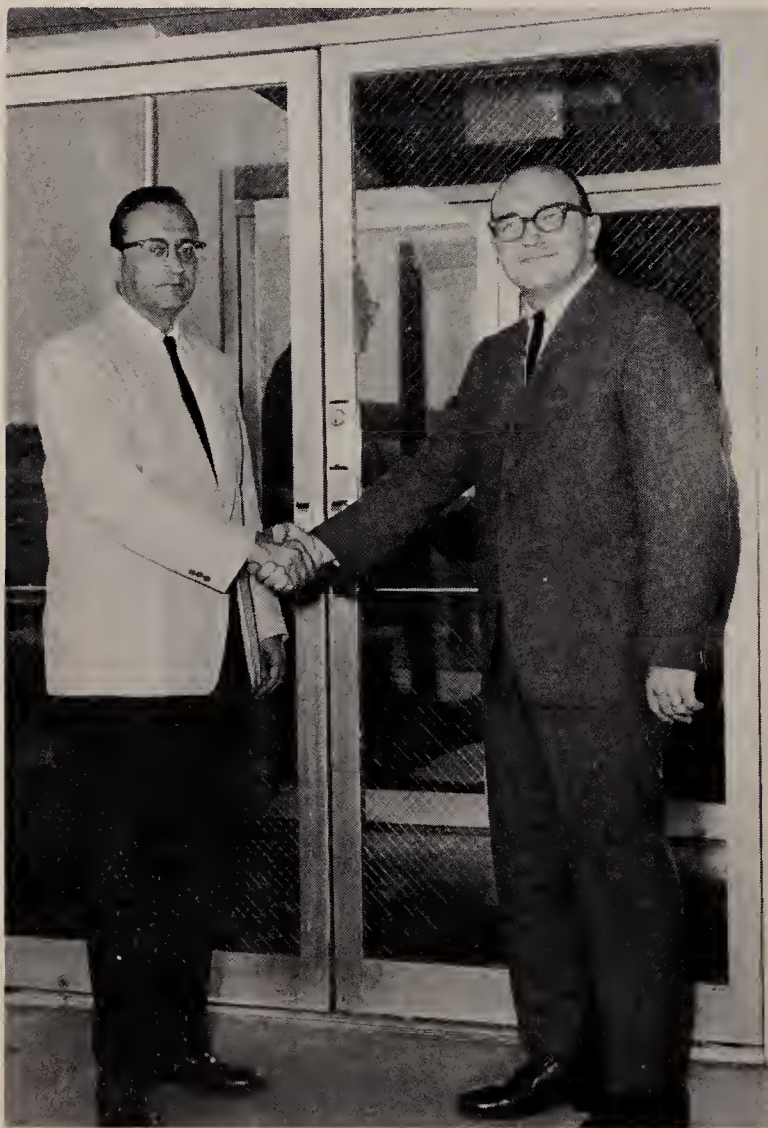

ADMINIS

WELCOME MR. CARUOLO

To our principal, Mr. Fred Caruolo, we extend our welcome, promise our support and aid, and express our assurity that together we will watch the respected name of South Windsor High School grow in dignity as it grows in age.

Mr. Caruolo, new principal of South Windsor High School.

Mr. Plotkin welcoming Mr. Caruolo to our school.

TRATION

FAREWELL MR. WOODMANSEE

"Bonne Chance!" we say to a leading educator who has spent a fruitful life time devoted to children; to a fearless pioneer who has directed the South Windsor School System to its superb heights; but most of all to a dear friend who found time for the young and the old, the great and the small. "Au revoir" we will miss you.

Mr. Plotkin
Asst. Superintendent of Schools

School Superintendent, Mr. Merle B. Woodmansee, submitted his resignation to take effect September 1, 1964, the date he will have completed 38 years service in public education. Mr. Woodmansee said, "It is my intention to apply for teacher retirement."

In 1925, fresh out of Brockton Mass. high school, he started teaching in a one room school in Preston. In 1929, Mr. Woodmansee graduated from Williamantic. From 1928 to 1931 he was a teaching principal at the four room Dublin School in Colchester. He moved up to a six room school, Edison, in Trumbull in 1931, still as a teaching principal and stayed there until 1935. In 1937 he graduated from Central Connecticut State College and in 1945 he received his M.A. at the University of Connecticut.

Mr. Woodmansee began as superintendent for South Windsor schools March 1, 1944.
